TESTIMONIALS:

A STRAND OF THREE CHORDS IS NOT EASILY BROKEN.

Worker's Compensation is getting more complicated every day.

Often claims adjusters have overwhelming numbers of claims to process and as a result take an exceedingly long time to settle pending Work Comp files. Reserves are set high for ultimate settlement as opposed to what current claim information supports at any given time, and consequently they are often overstated for unit statistical plan filing purposes. All of these factors can result in your experience modifier being overstated by up to 27 points.

Our partnership with AcuComp allows you to leverage the knowledge and experience that can only be acquired by reducing open reserves almost a billion dollars. One of our core value added services is access to the nation's premier workers' compensation cost control system. They have a documented history of auditing workers' compensation files, reducing open reserves by 30% and lowering experience modifiers by 27 points. Ultimately this decreases your premium costs.

Through the AcuComp System, our agency can provide you with:

- A complete list of claims under audit that includes a comprehensive breakdown of individual claim information.
- A list of documented reserve reductions which result in premium dollar savings.
- An experience modifier verification at renewal, a projection at mid-term, and experience modifier revisions as appropriate.

Let us start reducing your work comp premiums TODAY with AcuComp!

We will conduct a thorough review of your experience modifier to identify errors like subrogatable losses, missing payroll and clerical mistakes among others. Oversights like these can impact your modifier for up to three years and generate retroactive refunds when corrected.
